

THE MOST HOLY TRINITY

PASTOR'S CORNER

One God but three divine Persons: It is often said that we know more about the Triune God than we admit we know, because God the Father, God the Son, and God the Holy Spirit speaks to us constantly in an intensely and unmistakable way: sometimes his message is loud and clear, and sometimes it is simply silent and mysterious.

Who knows what the Lord will say to us today, or in the midst of whatever situation He will choose to say it? Not knowing is what makes today a holy mystery. But there are some things that by and large God is always saying to each of us, for we carry around inside ourselves a certain emptiness, perhaps a sense that something is missing; a restlessness, or a deep feeling that somehow all is not right inside our skin. Psychologists sometimes call it anxiety, theologians sometimes call it estrangement, but whatever you call it, I doubt that there are many who do not recognize the experience itself. This is especially true of our present age, which has been variously termed the “age of anxiety”, the “lost generation”, the “beat generation”, or the “lonely crowd”. Part of the inner world of each person is this sense of emptiness, unease, and incompleteness, and I believe that this in itself is a word from God; that this is the sound that God's voice makes in a world that has explained Him away. In such a world, I suspect that maybe God speaks to us most clearly through His silence and His absence, so that we know Him best through our missing Him.

But when God does speak to us, His words are of great significance—not words that are written in the stars, but words that are written into the raw stuff and sometimes the nonsense of our days. And the words that He says to each of us differently are, “Be brave . . . be merciful . . . feed my lambs . . . press on toward the goal...love as I have loved you...do not be afraid...I am with you always...” Do you hear this tender sound of God's voice in your own heart when you pray? For it is our faith in somebody and our enthusiasm for something that makes life worth living

Turning concern into action

"The reward for Christian charity is the joy that one feels after having performed a good deed". -

Don Bosco

In all the ordinary and extraordinary things that we do to bring comfort, the hope and joy to the less fortunate in our community, we give witness and thanks to God's love and compassion.

Thank you for your contributions to Bundle Up Sunday.

ATTENTION ALL PARISHIONERS

Reception of Holy Communion

It has come to my attention that some people, receiving on the hand, carry the Sacred Host back to their seats. This is forbidden. Please be sure to consume Jesus, truly present in the Sacred Host, right after you receive Him. You must consume the Host in the front of the church, right after receiving. There are people who wish to steal consecrated Hosts for the sake of rituals. If you see anyone walking away without having consumed the Sacred Host please alert one of the Ushers, the Sacristan—Anthony or Fr. Slawek.

Attention Eucharistic Ministers For the Homebound

Are there any Ministers interested in resuming Communion to the Homebound? Is so, please contact the Parish office.

Attention Parishioners

Are you interested in the Coffee Social resuming in the Fall after the 9 a.m. Mass every Wednesday?

Are you interested in a Bingo Night starting in the Fall?

Please contact the Parish office give us your feedback.
